After that, the driver must start the Special stage within 5 seconds, and the timing begins when the car passes through the photocells, which are located 1 meter from the start line. In case of a malfunction of the traffic lights, the start will be conducted using an appropriate flag signal. After that, the driver must start the special stage within 5 seconds.

The start time is indicated by the green light, which will be synchronized with the start of the minute on the clock. The green light will stay on for 20 seconds after the start of the full minute, and at the 21st second, the green light will change to red.

Photo cells are placed at the start line, connected to a timing system with a printer, which is synchronized with the system above and registers any premature start.

In case a manual starting procedure is used, the marshal at the start, after handing the crew their time card, will count aloud: 30" - 15" - 10" and the last five seconds one by one.
